MULTI-DISCIPLINARY PROGRAM
A TRAINING PROGRAM SPONSORED BY FOGARTY INTERNATIONAL CENTER
NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH, USA

INFORMATIONAL SESSION

Makerere University School of Public Health under D43 multi-disciplinary training program in digital mobile technologies to study tuberculosis that was recently funded by the NIH, through the University of Georgia (UGA) has an opportunity for funding of a masters' research thesis. This is available to two (02) first year students of the Graduate programmes offered at Makerere University who have progressed to concept proposal development stage of their graduate program. These should be in good academic standing and have or are about to complete year 1 in Academic Year 2023/24. The support will start at the beginning of Academic Year 2024/25, i.e., end of August 2024 when the students are starting their year 2. Students of geography and or digital health related courses are encouraged to apply, females too. Students will be provided with secondary data to address the following, or similar, issues relating to tuberculosis (TB):
